Fort Wayne, Ind. Dec. 28th 1888.

Miss. V. M. Drexel:

Our Rt. Rev. Bishop directs me to say in answer to your kind letter, that: he had offered Rensselaer first to the Benedictine Fathers; and he waited for an answer of acceptance for at least eight years if not longer, but they refused it, even with the two hundred acres of land he offered as a donation to their Order. Now, just before Our Rt. Rev. Bishop left for Europe, he had made arrangements with the Fathers of the "Religious Blood"; they accepted the offer, would consider disappointments, are very often directed by our good God to greater achievements, to greater good and to his greater honor & glory. Please accept this matter in that spirit of resignation to the Holy Will of God, and with this I wish you a very happy New Year, and consider me always ready to render you my service as far as my poor talents & energies may reach for what is good & pleasing to God.

I am sincerely yours in are canonically received and have even now to fathers there making preparations for building.

Therefore, Our Rt. Rev. Bishop says: he cannot possibly receive another Order and place the same right opposite the one already received.

There is perhaps no person who regrets as much as I do, that the Benedictine Fathers did not accept that long standing offer by our Rt. Rev. Bishop, because I like the "Benedictine".

Yet: "God's ways are not our ways; and our ways very often are not God's ways; and even in your holy zeal (and I, an unknown dear friend of yours, appreciate that zeal highly)
